Universal Plast is an industry that produces textile sample holders of various shapes, colours and forms, with a variety of materials.

Our production is highly automated, with the newest special machines in the sector of book-binding.

Our primary goals are the quality of the final product and the speed in time of the preparation of the

We are over 45 years in this area, so we know very well the operating conditions of the textile industries and the inherent needs of those who work in them.